What kind of toppings? Everything from potato, mushrooms, onions, and other veggies, to meats such as ham and salami, to apples and pears. And maybe even a couple of sauces. There will be salads and a variety of beverages to complete the meal. Yummy!
- May 9, 5:00 pm
- 6 seats
- Hosted by Cathy Elliott
- Can accommodate GF and vegetarian guests

Item #15: FELTED LUMINARY w/LED LAMP BASE

- Created by Tracy Haskell
- The luminary is made from undyed merino wool, wool yarn, with circle patterns constructed from cotton batting and all cloaked in a silk gauze fabric. I then used wet/nuno felting to bring the structure to life.
- The waviness of the structure is intentional, reflecting the wavy patterns held within.

Item #16: GINGER SNAPS NOW AND AGAIN

- Made by Kayla Worthington-Strong
- 4 dozen gingersnaps baked and ready to eat!
- Dough for 4 dozen more (with instructions) ready to freeze and bake later!
- These gingersnaps are made from Eleanor Roosevelt's recipe, as served to this day up at Campobello Island. You may have tasted these soft, chewy delights at a Fellowship Hour or two. Now you can enjoy them from the comfort of your own home.

Item #17: “LIGHT ME UP” CHALICE

Designed by Gigi Gillen

- Hangs on the wall
- 9x9” wall hanging of chalice made from wood, found bark & driftwood
